4. In Jihlava, the following military buildings are located: Stefanik Barracks, Zizka Barracks and the so-called Large Barracks. The Stefanik Barracks are located on the outskirts of the town and the Zizka Barracks are opposite them, at a distance of approximately 200 meters. The Stefanik Barracks consist of one two-story building, 100m x 200m, and one building 15m x 15m, built as an annex to the first building. In the first building is located the Health Division. The ammunition storehouse is located near the training ground at a distance of some 500-600 meters toward the west.

6. Military exercises took place six times in the last three months. The arms used consisted of: rifles, model 98 K at a distance of 100-200 meters; light machine guns, at a distance of 200 meters; submachine guns, old Russian model, at a distance of 50 meters; and submachine guns for 35 cartridges at a distance of 50 meters. Also executed were shooting exercises with light bazookas (German - Panzer faust) at a distance of 100-150 meters, the results of which were very satisfactory. The firing range is located in the outskirts of Jihlava in the direction of Znojmo, near a forest. (Approximately 500 meters from the highway and 300 meters from the Jihlava). Near the firing range a widely known restaurant the "Raj" is located. All the soldiers of the Jihlava garrison including the workers' militia took part in these exercises. For training purposes seven rifles and seven light machine guns were used.
